NATO has many partner countries, not only in Europe but also globally. The political and military utility of all these partnerships is clear; they 'provide' more security than they 'consume'. But the utility for NATO of partners also changes over time.

This is the first book that scrutinizes NATO's different kinds of partnerships systematically, both from NATO's perspective and that of partners. NATO experts from six countries (Argentina, Australia, Germany, Norway, Sweden, and the United States) give different views on issues such as global terrorism and the decline of the US as hegemonic power.
